- Website publication date: 04/07/2021
- Date of the last major update: July 4, 2021

Status in terms of compliance with the law

The website is partially compliant with the Digital Accessibility Act of Public Entity's Websites and Mobile Applications due to incompatibilities or exemptions listed below.

Content not available

The Gdynia website is in the process of rebuilding and introducing modifications related to the website availability audit according to the WCAG 2.1 standard to the A and AA compliance level. Due to ongoing work, the following areas and functions of the website may be partially or completely unavailable:

- Information and relationships (The semantics of the HTML5 code needs to be corrected. Lack of appropriate markings in the form field and the search form)
- Goal specification (No regional breakdown)
- Minimal contrast (Text containing background video and background does not have adequate contrast)
- Contrast not text (FOCUS does not have adequate contrast)
- Text spacing (Some content will cease to be visible at 1.5 times the font size for paragraph spacing)
- Keyboard (Unable to expand the menu using only the keyboard)
- Bypass blocks (No so-called skip to main content)
- Links in context (Example: Icons referring to social media. They do not contain any textual content or markup that indicates their purpose)
- Visible sharpness (Very low contrast for focus)
- On input (e.g. a menu button does not inform the user of its operation in any way)
- Labels or instructions (Placeholder in the search engine is not a sufficient element describing the operation of the field)
- Parsing (The page has some minor bugs in the code)

We will make every effort to complete the post-audit work related to increasing the availability of the website by 31/12/2021.

Everyone has the right to request that the digital accessibility of the website, mobile application or any of their elements be ensured. You can also request information to be made available using an alternative access method, for example by reading a digitally inaccessible document, describing the content of the video without audio description, etc. The request should contain the details of the person submitting the request, indicate which website or mobile application is meant and the method of contact. If the requesting person reports the need to receive information by means of an alternative method of access, he should also specify a convenient way for him to present this information. The public entity should execute the request immediately, not later than within 7 days from the date of the request. If it is not possible to meet this deadline, the public entity shall immediately inform the person making the request about it when it will be possible to fulfill the request, and this deadline may not be longer than 2 months from the date of submitting the request. If digital accessibility is not possible, the public entity may propose an alternative way of accessing the information. In the event that the public entity refuses to comply with the request to provide accessibility or an alternative method of access to information, the person submitting the request may submit a complaint regarding the provision of digital accessibility of the website, mobile application or website element or mobile application. After exhausting the above-mentioned procedure, you can also submit an application to the Ombudsman.
